

Many congratulations to the Anglo European School Upper Sixth Class of 2024!

Many congratulations to our A Level, AIB and IBCP students who have received their A Level grades today. We are particularly proud of this year group who we commend for the incredible resilience they have shown during the disruption to our Sixth Form block as a result of the discovery of RAAC and subsequent mitigations. We have been reassured that, although examination results must reflect students' knowledge, skills and understanding, and not what might have been their achievement under different circumstances, the Secretary of State has written to reassure us that universities have been made fully aware of those schools affected by RAAC and we have certainly seen this in today's offers.

Despite all the challenges this presented, this year group have approached their studies with grace, resilience and a determination to make the most of the opportunities afforded them. They leave the Anglo European, along with their peers, who earlier received the International Baccalaureate Diploma, with qualifications to be proud of and a distinctive, international experience that will serve them well in the future and we wish them all every success in their chosen future pathways.

Anglo students achieve much more than just a series of grades however; their international experience is unique and distinctive, and this week is about focusing on their future and next steps on their educational journey. We are thrilled for all our students who are progressing to undergraduate degrees, apprenticeships or employment. We have been celebrating fantastic offers from universities throughout the day

Ben Knights, Director of Sixth Form at Anglo European School said, "This cohort have pursued academically rigorous programmes of study and have achieved outstanding results to be very proud of today. Their success is testament to their tenacious efforts throughout the two years, and I have no doubt that these students will go on to great success as they pursue ambitious pathways on their chosen degree and apprenticeship courses."

Today, we have celebrated wonderful successes with our A level students, many of whom have attained stunning results and are really excited about their future educational journeys.

Nico, who studied 4 A Levels achieving A* A* A B will be studying Liberal Arts with International Studies at the University of Manchester. She said, "I am very excited by my results, they allow me to study the course I have wanted to study for a long time. It also opens opportunities for further study abroad in the future. I am unbelievably pleased and cannot wait to start my undergraduate studies"

Olmo studied the AIB route achieving A* A A 6 and will be studying English Literature at the University of Warwick. He said, "I cannot believe it! I am so pleased that all of the hard work paid off and I am now looking forward to starting the course I enjoy at the university of my choice."

Nikita studied 4 A Levels, achieving A* A A B and will be studying Management with Marketing and work placement at the University of Bath. He was thrilled with his results, "I feel great having received my results; they allow me to study at the University of Bath which is somewhere I have always wanted to study. It opens the door for a career in finance, perhaps internationally. I look forward to seeing where these results take me!"

Adam studied the AIB Route, achieving A* A A 5 and is pursuing Law at Bristol University. He said, "I am very proud of my results, the hard work during my studies has certainly paid off. I would like to work internationally in the future and the Anglo has prepared me for that. I would like to thank the Sixth Form team for their support during my UCAS application and courses".

Kiera studied the AIB Route gaining AAB6 and will be studying Korean Studies at Sheffield. "To be leaving the Anglo to study a course I have been interested in for a long time is amazing. The Anglo has prepared me well for this and my personal interest in Korean Studies will be fulfilled by the course I am now going to study. I am so pleased that my grades have got me there"

As ever, many Anglo European students will be pursuing university courses abroad such as Clemence who studied on the IBCP route, achieving BC54. She will be taking a gap year as an au pair in Italy this year and hopes to study at a French University the year after. To all those studying or working abroad we wish you bonne chance and bon voyage!

Our A Level students join our International Baccalaureate Diploma students in progressing to their first-choice destinations. Once again, The Anglo European produced world class IB results, beating the World Average to achieve an average of 35 points from a possible 45. 35 is the equivalent to A*A*A at A level; which shows just how phenomenal this achievement is. Four students achieved more than 40 points, the equivalent of four A* at A level.

Sophie exceeded the points needed to take up the offer of studying German at Oxford University and commented: "The IBDP is an extremely challenging (but equally rewarding) programme and I'm really proud of myself for achieving what I did. I gave it my everything and I'm extremely relieved that my hard work paid off. I can now look forward to attending Oxford University, knowing that what I've learnt over the last two years will serve me well."

She is joined by Christine, who today had her offer confirmed by Oxford University where she will study History. Congratulations!

Adrijus and Amy achieved exceptional scores, are both progressing to UCL to study Psychology and Language Sciences respectively. Adrijus added: "The IBDP is a tough but ultimately worth it and driven by the passion of learning. It is difficult and stressful, but these struggles build character and allow us students to grow to be more independent, disciplined and retrospective. I've loved every step of my journey and can only wish for others to make the most of their time before it's over.

Headteacher, Mrs Gee said: "We are thrilled with these outcomes and so very proud of Anglo's Sixth Form Class of 2024; these scores prove, once again, that our students are competing globally, at the highest levels and progressing to their first-choice destinations. We are hugely proud of their work ethic, determination and the academic integrity they have shown during their course of study. Their unique international education will open many doors and has given our students much more than academic study but also the ability to see the world differently. We wave goodbye to ambitious, principled and highly successful young people who should be very proud of themselves today and who will no doubt go on to make our world a better place.
